MAYOR'S Message

TURNING THE PAGE

By: COLEEN MACKIN, City of Brisbane Mayor, cmackin@brisbaneca.org, 415-529-8114

This will be my last column as your mayor, and I'd like to share some parting thoughts.

Being mayor can be a daunting job at times. I don't know how anybody could survive without the support of our City Staff. They always seem to anticipate what needs to be done, and stand ready to assist in getting things accomplished.

Being mayor, you gain a deep insight into how City Hall operates.

My favorite part...what goes on behind the scenes.

Staff handle complex scheduling, reporting deadlines, logistics, emergencies and so on. But you have no idea, the enormous number of last

HAPPY HOLIDAYS FROM MY FAMILY TO YOURS

By: DAVID J. CANEPA, President of the San Mateo County Supervisors, dcanepa@smcgov.org, 650-363-4572

As the holidays draw closer and we approach 2023, I am so thankful to serve as your San Mateo County Supervisor. I am also thankful for my beautiful wife Ana and Piero, who both keep me grounded.

Piero was born during my first year in office and watching him grow up every day is the joy of our lives. I am also grateful to my staff for helping me to address the needs of my constituents in San Mateo County and for creating policy that will

WINE DOWN THE YEAR WITH TALA WINE CO

By: MADISON DAVIS, Brisbane Chamber of Commerce, madison@brisbanechamber.org, 415-467-7283

Popping champagne to celebrate the New Year and toasting friends and family across the table on Christmas Eve are just some of the few ways wine is synonymous with the holiday season. This year, consider stocking your bar with wines purchased from right here in Brisbane. That's right, Brisbane is home to Tala Wine Co, an online wine company that specializes in natural wines.

Founded by Brisbane resident Tala Drzewiecki, Tala Wine Co offers a monthly wine club with a range of price points, bottle amounts, and delivery frequency. Tala chooses each wine for every subscriber based on what she thinks they will enjoy. She consults with the customer for feedback and develops a highly customized profile for each individual's wine preferences. This careful attention sets Tala Wine Co apart from other wine clubs. No other subscription models have the same concierge style, high-touch customer service experience. While most websites rely on algorithms to predict what a customer will like, Tala selects wines directly from her inventory. Wine matchmaking has become her super power.

If subscriptions aren't your thing, you can purchase by the bottle too. Bottles cost around $35 on average. If you're unsure what to buy, Tala Wine Co's holiday six-pack takes out the guesswork. The box comes specially curated by Tala with wines that pair well with holiday meals. Priced at $175, the holiday pack contains an assortment of sparkling, red, white, and rosé wines. There's something for everyone. Keep a few for yourself, gift one, and bring a bottle to a holiday party.

If you prefer to dip a toe in with one bottle, Tala recommends the 2020 Montesecondo Loupé Rosso for those who like red wine. A Chianti-style wine from the Tuscany region in Italy, this one is medium-bodied with notes of earth and red fruits. It pairs perfectly with tomato-based pasta and roasted vegetables and is $26. Those who prefer white might enjoy the 2020 Dominique Gruhier Tonnerre Bourgogne Blanc.

LEANNE BORGHESI BRINGS THE HOUSE DOWN IN "MOOD SWINGS" CABARET

A standing ovation was in order for Leanne Borghesi at the conclusion of her Mood Swings Cabaret on the eve of her November 12 performance at Mission Blue. The sold-out show is a first-time collaboration between the Brisbane Chamber of Commerce and Borghesi, who donated her time and talent. Borghesi has performed from New York to San Francisco in concert venues, nightclubs (Feinstein's at the Nikko, Birdland Jazz Club, Don't Tell Mama) & theaters, entertaining audiences with her bold & comedic brassy style. She made her 2019 Carnegie Hall Debut in An Evening of Jerome Kern and is a regularly featured guest star at the Mabel Mercer Foundation's New held annually at Lincoln Center's Rose Hall.

One hundred and fifty guests enjoyed Borghesi's one-of-a-kind comedic act with an accompanying three-piece band. Thirteen cabaret tables graced the stage, adorned with candles, feathers, charcuterie cups, and bottles of wine for VIP guests. A remote ordering system was built so guests could scan a QR code and order beverages and concessions for delivery to their tables throughout the show. General Admission guests visited a bar in the back of the venue, decorated with a massive red carpet, crimson velvet curtains, and soft lighting. Margaritas, minutes changes before meetings and events. What's impressive about our City Staff...they make it appear seamless.

Start with credit to the man at the top, City Manager Clay Holstein. He's the steady hand that conducts this well-tuned orchestra. With over 20 years on the job, I marvel at how he can still maintain that calm demeanor. It truly belies the daily dose of chaos that comes with his job. No matter how busy, Clay still manages to give you his full attention and calmly say, "Sure, we can look into that."

Second in command is our Assistant City Manager Stuart Schillinger, a veteran of 21 years. Though he's known for financial stability and steering the City through three recessions, Stuart has also worn many other hats, including his work with City Committees and Commissions. I consider Stuart a creative visionary who's never afraid to take on new challenges. Now retiring from his position with Brisbane, Stuart will be embarking on a new adventure with software company, ResourceX. Thank you, Stuart, for a job well done. Your legacy will be forever enshrined in our history.

Every year numerous City employees are recognized for their tenure. One individual with a truly notable milestone reached 40 years of service to Brisbane. This was Albert Duro, who helps us through all kinds of "IT" nightmares. Albert, I still love my Mac. Thank you for putting up with me.

Many staff, too numerous to mention, also reached markers in their careers with the City of Brisbane. To everyone, thank you for your dedication. The public may not know your names or faces, but they depend on you every day to get the job done.

I would be remiss to not mention Ingrid, Angel and Caroline. These are three city staff who have large roles in supporting the mayor. You three always seem unflappable no matter how hectic things get. You have my deepest admiration for your talents, and endless appreciation for the many ways you came through for me.

Thank you to my colleagues on the Council. You shared your wisdom, and your feedback, with a liberal dose of humor that made the stressful times more bearable.

To every citizen who called, wrote an email, or took the time to engage me in a conversation... you are a mayor's dream come true. Not enough people take the time to directly ask their questions, voice complaints, or make suggestions. Did you know our Mayor and every Councilmember are easily accessible? You'll find our emails and phone numbers on the City website. I hope more people take advantage of this. We really do appreciate your feedback and the opportunity to respond to your questions.

And to all of Brisbane...thank you for a year filled with incomparable memories. It was my sincere pleasure and honor to serve as your mayor.

Tala describes this as "a classically-styled white Burgundy wine made from 100% Chardonnay aged in French oak. It pairs nicely with various kinds of cheese, salads, or roasted chicken/pork." This one is organically farmed and priced at $28. Another incredible white wine they offer is the 2020 Unturned Stone Chardonnay from Mendocino County. Tala calls this wine "transcendent" and the "best California Chardonnay I've had in my life." Pick up a bottle for $44.

If you're curious about Tala Wine Co's inventory, their website can be searched easily with filters by grape, region, production practices, price, and type of wine. They have wines from all over the world, including Chile, France, Hungary, Italy, Slovakia, Spain, and the U.S. All wines are natural, which is at the core of Tala Wine Co's focus. They classify natural wines as wine fermented with ambient/native yeast, minimal or no SO₂, no other additives, unfiltered/unfiltered, and organically farmed. In most cases, the grapes are grown with few agricultural products such as fertilizers.

While additive-free wine may have a bad reputation, Tala insists that the quality of the wine has dramatically improved over the last decade. The shelf life of natural wine is comparable to regular wine and what many don't realize is that all wines produced before the 1960s were natural wine. Wines sold in the United States aren't required to list their ingredients, so consumers have no idea which additives they may be consuming. Tala explains, "I seek out producers who are transparent about their farming and production practices. Wines made naturally are not only better for the planet and consumers, but are more soulful, enjoyable, and have a greater sense of place."

Tala's journey into the wine space and calling Brisbane home are intertwined. Tala moved to Brisbane in 2009 when she relocated here because of her job at Sierra Point, working for IGN. Initially, she had commuted from Oakland on her motorcycle but soon fell in love with Brisbane and decided she wanted to move here instead. In the garage of her home, she began a wine-making hobby and learned everything about the process. In 2013 she left her job in tech and started Winelandia, her first online wine store and wine club, while also working at a small wine shop in Potrero. During this time, she hosted regular wine tastings and large-scale wine events and her passion for natural wines grew. Around 2015-2016 one of her vendors, Adventures in Wine, located near 7 Mile House, offered her a job. With so many irons in the fire, she sunsetted her first online wine shop. However, in 2020 the pandemic motivated Tala to open her online wine business again, and Tala Wine Co was born.

Brisbane customers automatically enjoy free shipping on their orders from www.tala.wine. The wine is stored nearby, so deliveries are made FAST. Place an order by December 20th for guaranteed delivery by Christmas Eve. For a wine recommendation, email hi@tala.wine. If you place an order, mention reading this article in The Luminary!

CAPITAL PROJECTS CHARGE REFLECTED ON UTILITY BILLS IN LATE DECEMBER

By: CAROLINE CHEUNG, Communications Manager,
City Manager's Office, ccheung@brisbaneca.org,
415.508.2157

The City Council voted to implement the second of four Capital Fee Charges for the Utility Fund on October 6, 2022, which are being phased in over a 17-year period to pay for improvements to:

- The City's aging water and wastewater systems such as an Advanced Metering Infrastructure (AMI) system that will provide improved operational efficiency and allow customers to view near real-time consumption data and potentially save costs by way of leak detection availability
- The Glen Park Pump Station upgrade
- Ongoing water and sewer pipeline replacements

The cost of these projects above is $10,000,000. The rates are graduated based on springtime usage (mid-February - mid-June) which ensures lower water users will pay less than higher users. See the City's website for the actual rates at brisbaneca.org/capital-projects-charge. Utility customers should see this second Capital Fee Charge for the Utility Fund issued in December 2022.

If you have any questions, please reach out to Senior Accounting Assistant Ligia Ferreira at (415) 508-2154 or lferreira@brisbaneca.org.

BRISBANE School District News2023 HERE WE COME!

By: RONAN COLLVER, Brisbane School District Superintendent, rcollver@brisbanesd.org

Writing 2023 seems like I am referring to a time far off into the future; and the reality is that it is only a few weeks away. It seems like time stood still as we have been navigating the stresses of a pandemic while waiting for life to return to the way we once knew. We have seen glimpses and reminders of the past creep into current life as we work on defining our new normal. As with the beginning of every new year, it is human nature to be optimistic and have a positive outlook with hope and excitement with what January 1st might bring us.

I would like to welcome Brisbane resident, Sarah Duffy, as the newest member of the Board of Trustees. She will be replacing Kima Hayuk, who diligently served our community for 6 years in a variety of roles including School Board President. His service and dedication to our district, especially during a stressful pandemic is greatly appreciated. Thank you Kim!

Both Panorama and Brisbane Elementary School will join Lipman Middle School and have their modernization projects complete by the end of 2023 which is very exciting. The district is very appreciative of the voters passing this modernization Bond in 2020.

This is the time of the year that people travel and get together with family and friends, which of course, increases the likelihood that viruses jump from person to person. In my experience, schools generally see an uptick in student illnesses from late November through January, so it would only make sense that we would see an increase in COVID cases as well. Remember to follow some basic health precautions such as wearing a mask in crowds, washing your hands, covering your mouth when you cough or sneeze, and staying home when you don't feel well are great ways to keep yourself and your family healthy.

The students are not the only ones affected when a virus starts to spread in schools. We have been having to operate short-handed lately due to staff illnesses at all three schools. If you or someone you know is interested in taking on a role in the district as a substitute paraprofessional or a substitute classroom teacher, please reach out to me and I can fill you in on the requirements. Due to a statewide substitute teacher shortage, it may be possible for people with a Bachelor's degree to get an emergency teaching certificate to work in a classroom on a temporary basis.

I am very much looking forward to 2023 and all the potential this new year will bring the Brisbane School District.

Nov. 8th Official Election Results

The City Council at their special meeting on December 9th adopted resolutions certifying the County's results of the November 8th Municipal Election. This included the County's Certification of Votes declaring the results of Measure O and U at the Municipal Election held November 8th.

As a reminder, "Measure O" is a business tax on those who provide lodging accommodations such as hotels and short-term rentals. "Measure U" is a district Transaction and Use Tax. Also at their special meeting, the Council adopted ordinances to implement the new taxes. All ordinances require a second reading, which, for these two are scheduled to go on the agenda for the December 15th City Council Meeting. If adopted, the taxes will go into effect 30 days later (the first remittance for Measure O – covering January 1, 2023 through March 31, 2023 – will not be due until April 2023).

Thank you for voting in this year's Municipal Election. See more official election results at smcvote.org.

BLAST FROM BRISBANE'S PAST

By: MADISON DAVIS, Brisbane Chamber of Commerce, madison@brisbanechamber.org, 415-467-7283

The following article is taken from the Brisbane Bee-Democrat, published December 21, 1961

Santa to Tour Here Yule Morn

Santa may be a very tired man by 9 o'clock Christmas morning, but he has made reservations for his annual tour of Brisbane rain or shine.

St. Nick, assisted by the members of the Lions Club and the Fire Department, will travel the lower area of the town in the first Christmas that Brisbane has been a city.

Candy and fruit will be presented to the children by Santa and the workers from the Lions and the Department.

Starting at 9 o'clock at the fire station, Santa will ascend the fire truck and will ride about town giving out the candy and apples to the children.

The Fire Department has been sponsoring the visitation by Santa for the past two decades, according to Fire Chief Richard Siess. Ten years ago the project grew to proportions that the Lions Club joined in and has been sharing the load ever since. The route will cover all the streets in the lower area of the city.

In a joint statement, Lions Club President Walter Johnson and Chief Siess declared "The Brisbane Fire Department and the Lions Club wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

FINANCIAL Focus

DON'T OVERLOOK IMPORTANCE OF CASH

By: SVEN GEFFKEN, Financial Advisor, Edward Jones, Sven.Geffken@edwardjones.com, (650) 355-1365

If you're an investor, you no doubt pay a great deal of attention to your stocks, bonds and mutual funds. But you shouldn't forget another key element of your financial strategy: cash.

Cash is part of any financial strategy and investment portfolio, but how much have you thought about the different uses of cash, and how much you really need? Consider these four key purposes:

- Unexpected expenses and emergencies – If you face an interruption in employment, you need an extensive home repair or you encounter an unplanned medical expense, you may need access to cash. If you're not retired, it's a good idea to have three to six months of living expenses in cash, possibly supplemented by access to a line of credit. If you're already retired, keeping up to three months of living expenses in cash, possibly supplemented by a credit line, is a good rule of thumb.

- Specific short-term savings goals – You may have some goals you want to meet within the next year or two, such as a wedding, a vacation or the purchase of a new car. And since you have a little more time to meet these needs than you would for an emergency, you might consider using a money market account or a short-term certificate of deposit (CD), in addition to your other savings vehicles.

- Everyday spending – You'll always need cash to provide for your day-to-day spending needs, such as your mortgage, other debts, groceries, utilities, entertainment and so on. If you haven't already done so, you might want to create a budget, which could help highlight areas in which you can

TRASH TALK-SORTING SMART IS REQUIRED

By: TERESA MONTGOMERY, Chamber Board Member and Sustainability Manager at SSF Scavenger, and ADRIENNE ETHERTON, Sustainability Manager at City of Brisbane

Q: Is it true that the State's requirement to sort organic waste from landfill-bound garbage will be enforced in Brisbane starting next month?

A: Yes. Starting January 1, 2023, Brisbane's code enforcement team can issue citations for placing organic waste like clean paper and cardboard, food scraps, food-soiled paper, and yard trimmings in the garbage. They can also cite for placing garbage in a recycling or organics bin. SSF Scavenger and City staff are working to avoid the need for citations. The goal is to encourage everyone to sort waste correctly so that we minimize what is sent to the landfill and maximize what we recycle and compost. If you are unsure about what belongs in each of your carts, please use the search tool at www.ssfscavenger.com/sort-smart, call 650.589.4020, or send an email to info@ssfscavenger.com.

reduce spending to free up funds for investing in long-term goals. If you're still working, keeping one to two months' worth of living expenses in a liquid account may be sufficient, but if you're retired, you may need up to 12 months of living expenses, which you can adjust to accommodate outside sources, such as Social Security or a pension.

- Source of investment – You can look at cash as an investment source in two different ways. First, cash can be considered its own distinct asset class, and because it typically behaves differently from other asset classes, it can provide some diversification to a portfolio containing stocks and bonds. (Keep in mind, though, that diversification can't guarantee profits or protect against all losses.) And second, the cash in your portfolio could be used as part of a systematic investing strategy in which you put set amounts of money at regular intervals into investment vehicles that are appropriate for your goals and risk tolerance.

Clearly, cash is an important part of planning for the future, but there can be too much of a good thing. While cash may seem like a perpetual safe harbor from the stormy investment seas, it is not without risk. If you hold too much cash, you could underfund your longer-term investments — the ones with the growth potential you need to reach some of your most important goals, such as a comfortable retirement.

Put your cash to work. By using it wisely, you can add a valuable element to your financial picture.

lemon drops, wine, beer, charcuterie cups, nuts, and olives were available. Volunteers Terry O’Connell, Michele Salmon, Mary Shulenberg, Sue Cochran, Dan Carter, Teresa Montgomery, James Ball, Danette Davis, Chris Davis, Tamara Palmer-Heath, Tom Heath, and Nancy Brazil assisted with the event. The City of Brisbane donated the venue and setup of the riser seating.

Brisbane resident JoeJoe Martin and his company LumiGeek transformed Mission Blue with professional lighting services which coordinated with the show. He even installed a disco ball, adding to the club atmosphere. Sharon Boggs, a Brisbane resident, and owner of Sound Productions provided all the audio services. Donations from Sound Productions and LumiGeek were essential to the show’s success and allowed us to deliver a professional performance complementary to Borghesi’s talent. Residents Dan Ryan and Keith Moreau donated photography and videography, respectively.

Sponsorships from Orchard Partners and Healthpeak made it possible to hire three acclaimed musicians-Ross Gualco, Marc Baum, and Vince Littleton. Past credits among the musicians include playing with the Tonight Show, Teatro ZinZanni, CNN, VH1, and more. The Chamber thanks Leanne Borghesi, JoeJoe Martin, Sharon Boggs, Orchard Partners, and Healthpeak for their generosity. We are hopeful to continue a cabaret series with Borghesi at the helm next year, to benefit the Chamber, celebrating its 75-year diamond jubilee anniversary.

improve the lives of all county residents.

As I finish my sixth year in office, I am honored to be a member of a Board of Supervisors that has made historic investments in reducing homelessness, creating affordable housing, removing guns from our streets, protecting women’s reproductive rights, protecting our environment and making investments in our libraries, including the new state-of-the-art Brisbane Library.

As the year comes to an end, I’d like to thank you all for taking the time to read my monthly column in the Luminary and for your continued support.

Happy Holidays, Merry Christmas and Happy New Year from my family to yours!

In other news, with COVID-19, RSV and flu circulating in our area, the county’s Health System is urging residents to take steps to prevent these respiratory infections by wearing a high-quality mask indoors, staying up to date on vaccinations, washing your hands, avoiding touching your face, covering coughs and cleaning surfaces.

COVID-19 vaccines and boosters are widely available from health care providers and pharmacies, such as CVS, Safeway and Walgreens. For County Health’s pop-up clinics, please see the online calendar or go to MyTurn to schedule appointments.

Flu vaccines are also available from health care providers and from County Health. See flu vaccine locations and schedules on MyTurn here and County Health’s pop-up flu clinics. To learn more go to: <https://www.smchealth.org/flu>.
